The Flying Congressman. PASTEST TIME EVER MADE BETWEEN THE WEST AND THE EAST-GOVERNOR WHITEAKER'S WONDERFUL RIDE-FROM FIVE MONTHS TO

FIVE DAYS. [Pittsburgh Post, March 17.] He started from his home in Main county, Oregon, on Friday, March 7th, in response to a message from the Democratic managers the top ov the ladder as to see yu fall oft, asking him to come to Washington immediately. He took a special train and reached Portland, distant one hundred and fifty miles from his home, in good time for the shunce and skill. steamer. On Saturday the 8th the steamer started down the Columbia men are unable to advise others at all korriver to Astoria. The first vexatious rectly. weary wait, the boat started across at 7 ing who are anxious to prove that 2 and 2 clock Sunday morning. The weather was makes 5, and 1 am astonished to kno that delay was had at the bar. After a ugly, the water was rough, and travel was there are full az menny who are az anxious tedious. The boat should have reached to beleave it .- New York Weekly. San Francisco by 7 o'clock on Tuesday morning last, but, tossed about by the waves, she was detained over twenty-four A SYSTEM.—Every function is deranged, every hours. She arrived at San Francisco, distant 657 miles from Portland, at 9:30 Wed- by fever and ague. It is, in fact, a disease which, nesday morning. Governor Whiteaker had expected to take a train at the former point its types in every phase, it is dangerous, destrucat 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. This train twe. Stupor, delirium, convulsions, often altend it, would have taken him through to Washing- and cause swift dissolution. But when combatted ton by 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, March with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters its foothold in the 18th, early enough to be present at the organization of Congress. News of his delay was telegraphed to Washington, and back went the message. "Take special train and come on at all hazards." The instructions to the traveller were followed up with arrangements for his journey. The special train was provided. A man with a light craft was instructed to pull up to the steamer as she approached the San Francisco wharf. He obeyed the instructions, and while other passengers were eagerly awaiting the tedious process of tying up the steamer, Congressman Whiteaker was in the little boat culting through the water to Oakland. At 10:35, or less than an hour from the time of leaving the steamer, he had reached Oakland, had taken the special train, and was soon afterward whooping across the country over the Central-Pacific at a rate of forty-five miles an hour. The intention was to overtake the train which he had missed. The special consisted of a locomotive and sleeper. A clear track was given the special, and on she sped at a terrific rate of speed until Ogden was reached. Twenty-one hours had now been gained, but the regular train was still far ahead. There was no delay at Ogden, but the special continued her way now on the Union-Pacific, flying at an enormous speed across the plains. The traveller was determined to reach Washington in time for organization in spite of wind and tide and railroad schedules, and to be sure of doing it had given up the idea of taking the train which he had missed at San taking the train which he had missed at San Francisco. He determined to stick to the special, and allowed no dimunition in the special, and allowed no dimunition in the speed of his own train. He swept on through Wyoming, and then through Nebraska, sometimes travelling at the rate of forty-five miles an hour, sometimes less than forty-five miles and hour, sometimes less than the forty-five miles and hour, somet forty-five miles an hour, sometimes less than twenty-five, but always maintaining the average of over thirty miles an hour. At half-past 2 o'clock on last Saturday morning his special pulled into the depôt at Francisco, a distance of 1,928 miles, in sixty-four hours. The usual time for the fast-The usual rate of speed is an average of not quite nineteen miles an hour. The average rate of Congressman Whiteaker's special was something over thirty miles an hour. There was no detention at Omaha. The special continued now over still another special continued now over still another road. She left Omaha on Saturday last at 3:05 A. M. She pulled up in Chicago at 5:15 P. M. She delivered her distinguished passenger at Chicago just in time to take the Atlantic express over the Fort Wayne road. The Congressman hustled himself into the Atlantic, and at half-past 5 o'clock was still shooting over terra firma, and was now on the first schedule train since he left his home, three thousand miles away. He arrived in Pittsburgh at 12:27 yesterday after-THE FASTEST TIME ON RECORD.

On the Fort Wayne road he met Hon. Henry Poehler and Mr. Smith. The party left here last night at 8:06 on the Fast Line over the Pennsylvania railroad, and will arrive in Washington, D. C., at 9:02 o'clock this morning. With wind, tide, and railroad schedules all against him, Governor Whitefive days, the fastest time on record from west to east. The trip of Lawrence Barrett and other theatrical people from New York to San Francisco some time ago was made in something less than six days. These gentlemen travelled from cast to west with the sun, but Governor Whiteaker travelled in a contrary direction. They gained P. R. CARRINGTON, three hours, because San-Francisco time is elled in a contrary direction. They gained three hours, because San-Francisco time is three hours slower than Washington time. Congressman Whiteaker lost three hours for the same reason. He also lost nearly eight bours in this city because there was through train to Washington before 8:06.

special train was put on the road at the shortest notice. "Were there any incidents in the trip worthy of mention?" inquired the reporter of Governor Whiteaker during the afternoon.

THE GOVERNOR'S PERSONNEL

Governor John Whiteaker, the man who made this break-neck trip, is fifty-nine years of age. He is about five feet nine or ten inches in beight, with massive square.shoulders, a deep chest, and would weigh probably about 180 pounds. He wears an irongray beand and moustache, while sant and satisfactory. WALKER, SAUNDERS & CO. covering nearly the whole face, leaves exposed a pair of ruddy cheeks which are the very picture of health. His kair is of a light brown, and kis eyes are a sharp blue. His countenance indicates him to be a whole-souled, Jolly good fellow, with an extraordinary share of good square comextraerdinary share of good square common sense said much sound practical folormation. His conversation and action prove him to be not only that sort of a man, but a man also with a good fund of lore. He was dressed in plain ettire, avoiding every tendency towards foppishness. Though somewhat careless about nicety of dress, he just as serupulously doffs the marks of a man whose bome is on the plains as he avoids snobbishness. There is none of the broad-brimmed-hat foolishness and western-country swaggering air about
